

Dear customers and partners,

We're excited to announce that Emerging Display Technologies Corp. (EDT) will be exhibiting at Virtual Display Week 2021 – May 17-21, 2021.

Don't miss this opportunity to see the newest technologies, products and applications from around the world, and stay ahead of the curve with the world-renowned technical symposium, business conference and special sessions.

EDT's core product portfolio includes TFT displays, PCAP touch panels, and our Smart Embedded fully integrated GUI solutions. Traditional display and touch technologies such as STN monochrome LCD's and Resistive Touch Panels are also available. Our standard products range in size from 1.8" up to 21.5". We can customize these products to exactly fit customer optical, electrical, and mechanical requirements. We also offer several TFT's designed to replace Mitsubishi TFT's that are expected to go EOL in 2022.

For Display Week 2021 we are featuring EDT Smart Embedded products which are highly integrated HMI solutions architected to simplify and accelerate GUI implementation for our customers' products. Our Smart Embedded Development Kits enable engineers to quickly develop proof-of-concept HMI prototypes, and our off-the-shelf standard products allow customers faster time-to-market. Smart Embedded products include an embedded controller board integrated with the TFT display as one compact module in the range from 4.3" - 10.1". They include all necessary electronics to control the TFT display module, backlight, PCAP touch panel and the GUI application. Other sizes, resolutions and Full- and Semi-Custom modules can be built to customers' requirements.
